

Declares Ike on Trial With Farmers

WASHINGTON, Jan. 1.—Sen. Elmer A. Benson today declared that the Eisenhower administration is definitely "on trial with farmers" at the conclusion of Congress.

Benson, a supporter of President Eisenhower and a member of the Senate Agriculture Committee, said he is going to be watching what is done in Congress.

Senator, just back from the farm, said Eisenhower is as "ever with farmers and they feel better about recent general, there isn't the fear of the farmers there eight months ago," he said.

Prices have increased, and are solid and there has been a strengthening of beef prices.

The last few months fear had made the market softer than even supplies warranted.

Official confirmation that farm prices had ended a four-month decline yesterday from the Agriculture department, which put an increase for the month ended Dec. 15 at 1.6 per cent.

The average farm price was 1.6 per cent under the level of a year earlier and about 20 per cent below the record high of $1.15 in 1951. Also, the November-December level was about 5 per cent under that when the Eisenhower administration took office last January.

Red Composer Is a Fan of Gershwin

BY KENNETH BRODNEY
MOSCOW, (UP)—Dmitri Shostakovich, considered by many as the world's greatest living composer, says he likes some of the modern Western music and the work of the late George Gershwin.

The 47-year-old Stalin prize winner granted an interview last night following a performance of his symphony at the Moscow Conservatory.

Several young American college students were present at the interview and heard Shostakovich discuss the works of American composers.

Anton Copland is very interesting, Shostakovich said of the Brooklyn-born composer. "I particularly like his third symphony, 'Symphony for Strings' (another New York composer) also is interesting."

Gershwin is a very strong composer, Shostakovich said. "I liked his symphony 'Rhapsody' in Shostakovich along with Aram Khachaturian and the late Sergei Prokofiev at the end of World War II. Prokofiev was criticized for his "too much interest in Western music," Shostakovich said.

Shostakovich said he was not too familiar with the works of Italian composer Gian-Carlo Menotti, but had heard one of his operas, "The Medium," on the radio and found it interesting.

Benjamin Britten (British composer) is very talented, Shostakovich said. "His opera about the composer, 'Peter Grimes,' is very interesting."

HEN LAYS ATOMIC EGGS—In the Atomic Energy Commission's radio-biological laboratories at Oak Ridge, Tenn., a biochemist and a technician give a hen a forced feeding of radioactive calcium-45 and phosphorus-43 in an experiment on the physiology of egg formation. By measuring the shell, white and yolk of the hen's eggs for radioactivity, scientists try to find out how the hen absorbs calcium and phosphorus and fills them into various components of the egg.

Spotlight on Predictions for Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 1.—This first day of 1954 provides the occasion for my exclusive feature, predictions of things to come.

The accuracy of these predictions has been proved to be 87.38 per cent, which is not bad proof no matter what you're drinking. However, the management cannot be held responsible for money lost in wagers on these items. You know how actors are. Anything can happen.

Anyway, I predict that in 1954: Ava Gardner and Frank Sinatra will break up seven times, ending the year broken up.

Terry Moore will find new ways to get her picture in the papers. Marilyn Monroe will have a big announcement to make about Joe DiMaggio.

"The Caline Mutiny" will be the top picture of the year. Samuel Goldwyn will make 81 public announcements about film censorship, wide screens, theater prices, the Pitdown Man and free silver.

Dore Schary will receive most plaques than Darryl Zanuck. "From Here to Eternity" will sweep the Oscar derby.

Mario Lanza will come out of hiding.

More theaters will fold because of the shortage of pictures.

More reissues will be on the market for the same reason.

Howard Hughes will continue bucking the rest of the industry by ignoring the censorship code.

Jack Webb will abandon "Dragnet" for a new series called "Pete Kelly's Blues."

Only a tiny percentage of the population will be seeing color TV.

Big-time radio programming will stage a comeback.

Alan Ladd, Gregory Peck and other exiles will come trooping home.

Wide screens will continue to get wider, but 3D will be on the wane. Movies will be heavily concerned with spectacle; stories will continue to have the same small scope. Rita Hayworth and Dick Haymes will provide year-round fireworks. Ma-jorie Main and Percy Kilbride will not get married.

Former Girl Weds in Shreveport

The Central Baptist Church of Shreveport, was the scene of the wedding of Miss Eula Dean Caudle and William J. Rosenblum on Saturday evening, December 19, at 6:30 o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. Milton H. Caudle of Hope, are parents of the bride, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. William B. Rosenblum of Shreveport.

Reverend J. E. Hollingsworth, pastor of the church performed the double ring ceremony before an altar of greenery flanked by stately white gladiolus and glowing white tapers.

Nuptial music was provided by Mrs. J. M. Machacha who accompanied Miss Julia Johnson as she sang "I Love You Truly," "Always," and the "Lord's Prayer." The bride was preceded to the altar by Mrs. Denver Whitten, matron-of-honor. Mrs. Whitten was attired in a street length dress of pale pink faille trimmed in tiny rhinestones, a matching feathered hat interspersed with rhinestones. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations. Her other accessories were blue, to match the dress of the bride.

The bride, who entered on the arm of John Lemoine, a friend of the family, chose a gown of soft blue taffeta designed with a round neckline embroidered with seed pearls. The very full ballerina length skirt was edged with a tiny ruffling of white tulle. The three-quarter length sleeves were softly sheered. Her shoulder length veil of illusion fell from a tiara of blue satin embroidered with seed pearls to match the neckline of her dress. She wore a single strand of pearls with matching earrings. The bride carried a white Bible topped with white carnations with satin streamers of white caught with sprays of lilies of the valley.

Irvin C. Eldred served the groom as best man. Ushers were Raymond Lemoine and J. O. Cassady.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. I. C. Eldred on Preston street Shreveport. The home was attractively decorated for the special occasion and also for the Christmas season.

Guests were ushered into the foyer where Miss Judy Whitten and Miss Margo Wimberly presided over the bride's book. They were then introduced into the receiving line. Mr. and Mrs. Rosenblum stood before an elaborately decorated white Christmas tree.

The dining table was covered with a white chintilly lace cloth and over the center was a cluster of wedding bells. At one end of the table, Mrs. Whitten served the four-tiered wedding topped with the miniature bride and groom. Mrs. Kay Paul presided at the tea service.

For a wedding trip, the bride chose a suit of light brown wool with matching accessories and pinned a corsage of white carnations, at her shoulder. Upon return, the couple will be at home in Shreveport.

Sunday School Lesson

By William E. Gilroy, D. D.

During the early part of 1954 many Sunday schools will be studying the Gospel of John. A word or two concerning that Gospel may be of help.

I had the advantage of a brilliant exposition and analysis of the Gospel by the late Wilbur W. White at some student conferences many years ago, the memory and effect of which have been with me ever since.

The Gospel of John begins not with a record of events, as in the other three Gospels, but with a prologue, or thesis. In this pro-

It is no longer necessary to forego prettiness at bedtime to safeguard one's daytime appearance. Girl (left) has hidden her beauty behind a mask of heavy cream. She has made no attempt to hide the ugly pin curls, however. Her lovely negligee seems out of place here. Now (right) she has covered the curls with a feminine cap that will help to keep them in place. And she is using a new nightly facial that is absorbed quickly into the skin, leaving no residue to mar her appearance or mess the bed clothes. And in the morning, she will not present a slovenly appearance.

logue the author sets forth his belief in Jesus as the Eternal Word which was in the beginning, was with God and was God (John 1:1). It is a plain statement of the divinity of Christ.

Dr. White represented all that follows in the Gospel as the evidences of what the author, had set out to prove; the witness of Jesus' mighty works, the witness of early disciples, the witness of the Samaritan woman, the witness of various incidents, the witness of Jesus Himself, and the crowning witness of the Resurrection.

Despite its nature and its witness, the Gospel of John has been the subject of keen controversy.

From the apparent late date of its appearance, and doubt concerning whether its author was the Apostle John, some have questioned its authenticity. Others have seen in the fourth Gospel the addition, the crowning and the climax of all that had gone before in the Gospels of Matthew, Mark and Luke.

For, the Gospel of John bears its own evidence concerning its authenticity. Its incidents in their plain narration bear the mark of truth.

Could anyone have invented them and the discourses of Jesus which surely have the mark of remembrance?

The three so-called Synoptic Gospels are rich and full, but even with their richness thing of all we should miss if we did not have this fourth Gospel.

There is the story of Nicodemus, the long account of the meeting of Jesus and the woman of Samaria, with its great words concerning worship; the association of truth and freedom in John 8, the ringing testimony of the man

DOROTHY DIX

Girl With Serpent's Tongue

Dear Miss Dix: Six years ago I married for the second time. My husband is a wonderful man; he adopted the son of my first marriage, and our life together has been most happy. My difficulty is a girl friend of mine who has turned into a troublemaker. During the first years of my marriage, I used to spend considerable time with her, usually helping to straighten her house, since she was far from being a good housekeeper. Now I have gotten a parttime job, and don't see her as much as I used to. As a consequence, she is saying some pretty nasty things about me in an effort to separate me from other friends. I'm getting very upset about the whole thing.

Lucille

Answer: I always have thought it would be a fine idea if we could have troublemakers go around with a bell like the lepers of old. Certainly the slander they spread is as harmful as any disease.

Those who are swayed by vicious gossip are unworthy persons, so don't lament the loss of anyone who heeds lies. If you can prove any of your contentions, confront your erstwhile friend with your proof, preferably in front of someone to whom she has told lies. If, however, she's too clever for that, put your case before people you like, and let them judge the merits of each story.

If the tales told about you are damaging to your reputation you may have grounds for a legal action. A threat to bring suit for slander may put a stop to the annoyance. No half-hearted methods will ever succeed in quelling a lying tongue, especially when the slanderer feels assured of getting away with her verbal assaults.

Dear Miss Dix: I am a widow with a 10-year-old son. I've been going with a successful businessman for the last year, and am in love with him. He says he'd like to marry me someday, but not until my son is on his own. He doesn't feel obligated to care for another man's child. The boy is a fine youngster, has never given me any trouble, is bright in school, and well liked by all who know him. I think my love is fading.

Jewel

Answer: And a good thing it is fading! Could you seriously contemplate marriage with a man who would want you to disown your child? Any man worth your love would be proud to help to bring up the boy. Just say good riddance to a selfish apology for a man.

Dear Miss Dix: I live with my grandmother, who has brought me up. She's very strict with me, and because of that I intend to get married next year as soon as I finish school. I have several boy friends, but the one I like best is just my age. Do you think he'd be a suitable husband?

E. V.

Answer: Don't, at any age, consider marriage merely as a means of escaping irritating home conditions. At your age, such a thought is particularly dangerous. As for the young man, it's very doubtful if he'd be ready to marry at 17. Try to remember that grandmother is doing her best for you, though it's hard for you to realize it. In time, you'll appreciate her efforts. Apparently, you have dating privileges, even though they may not be as liberal as you'd like. Make the best use of the freedom you have, don't abuse it, and I'm sure born blind (John 9) the picture of the Good Shepherd, the mystic words about union with Christ, the branch and the vine.

Besides being a source of great conversations and incidents the Gospel of John is a source of great texts, such as John 3:16 the concentrated expression of the Gospel of God's love for the world, the nature of true worship (John 4:23, 24); "the truth shall make you free" (John 8:32), and the "comforting words concerning immortality" in John 14. And the Gospel ends on its sense of the immensity of the Christ and all that pertains to Him.

The books that might have been written are only a part of the on-going life of the Master as He lives and acts in the lives of the multitudes of disciples who love and follow Him. These too are continuing witnesses.

Fulbright Opposes Ike's Aid Plan

WASHINGTON, D. C.—President Eisenhower's proposal to aid economically depressed areas of the country has drawn vigorous opposition by Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark.). The Arkansas Democrat charged yesterday that the Eisenhower plan "disrupts the whole procedure of free competition."

He said: "I believe in free competition, believe in free enterprise. If the Republicans don't let them come out and say so."

The President's plan would "create areas of heavy unemployment by awarding government contracts to bidders from those areas."

"That is government paternalism," Fulbright told a reporter. "We have a regular unemployment program set up which should use."

Missing in Korea Are Presumed Dead

WASHINGTON, (UP) — The army and air force today wrote "presumed dead" across the names of some 3,650 men missing in action in Korea.

For the thousands of families who have clung to the last thin shred of hope that their long missing sons or husbands might still be alive, it was a heartbreaking New Year's message. It raised the U.S. death toll in the Korean War to nearly 30,000.

Formal announcements that the men have been declared officially dead will be sent to the next of kin by registered mail early next week. The services deliberately held up mailing the notifications in order not to break the sad news during the holidays.

The army declared about 3,400 missing men dead and the air force about 250. All of the men have been missing in action for over a year and a diligent search has yielded no information that would indicate they still might be alive.

The marine corps over the last month has declared 300 missing men dead, and will announce the names along with other services early in January. The navy, with only 19 men missing in action, is handling each case individually and will make no formal announcement when it transfers the men to the officially dead list.

The most recent Defense Department casualty list showed 25,004 men were killed in the Korean War. Transfer of the army, marine and air force missing to the dead category raises the death toll to about 29,550.

Still officially listed as missing in action are another 3,486 men, most of whom eventually will be declared dead. The men are continued in the missing category either because they have been missing for less than a year or because there are grounds for belief that a few of them may still be alive but not returned by the Communists.

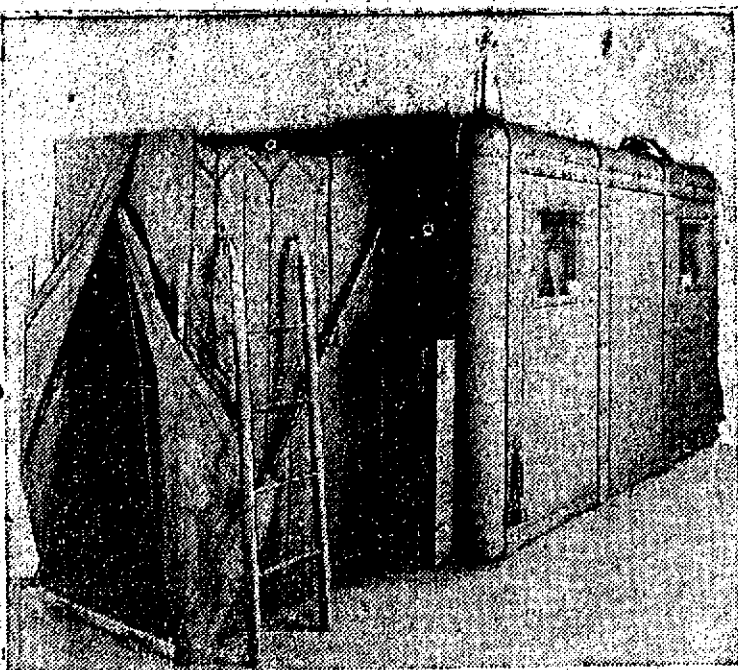

With today's ruling, the pay and allowances received by the families of the 3,650 "presumed dead" army and air force men will automatically end.

Wife Switch Goes Through on Schedule

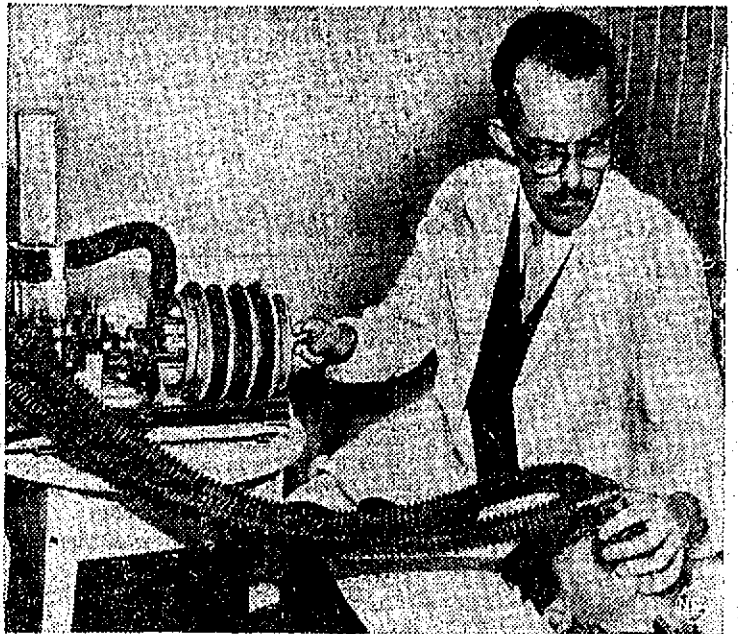

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., —(UP) — Band leader Billy May planned to wed Mrs. Joan Gaste! today in the last act of a strange Hollywood romance that saw May and his former manager trade wives.

Carolyn Gaste!, May's one-time business manager, wed the band leader's former wife, Mrs. Arlette May, 27, last night in Las Vegas.

May, 48, and his new wife did not know where they were planning to

ARMY'S NEW HOME-AWAY-FROM-HOME—It may not look like it, but this is the Army's new all-purpose cold-weather sled, to be used for quarters and office space. Called the Wanigan, it is heated by an oil stove, can house four people and is designed to be pulled around on ski runners. Developed by the Detroit Arsenal, it will soon be contracted out to private industry.

Aussies Take Another Davis Cup Victory

By WILL GRIMSLEY
MELBOURNE (UP) — Australia celebrated another Davis Cup victory over the United States today and the enthusiasm of the tennis fans down here makes Brooklyn Dodgers partisans look like sedate amateurs.

That's how wild the celebrations are from one end of the land to the other.

Lewis Hoad and Ken Rosewall, the Aussies' 19-year-old whiz kids, were being acclaimed as national heroes. World news was shoved inside in the newspapers and even the story of Queen Elizabeth's knighting eight Australians was subordinated to the triumph.

honey-moon or whether they intended to be in town when today's ceremony is performed.

Both couples had been married 13 years and each obtaining divorce last year and each had two daughters. The marriage switch was hinted in their divorce trials.

The former Mrs. May divorced the band leader in November, 1940, and indicated last June she would wed Gaste! when their respective degrees became final. At the time, the former Mrs. Gaste! already had admitted she and May planned to wed.

Singer Nat King Cole was Gaste!'s best man, and Gaste!'s sister, Chiqui, was matron of honor in the ceremony performed by district Judge A. S. Henderson. Gaste! now is Cole's business manager.

Aerial Power May Feature Bowl Games

BOB HOOGING

NEW YORK (UP)—Victory through air power as the keynote for several bowl entries today with practice in centered attention.

Maryland's national champions. The fourth-rated Sooners, on touchdown underdogs, were expected to mix in plent of passing against the nation's leading rushing defense club.

In other major bowl games Michigan State, No. 3, met UCLA, No. 5, at Pasadena; Georgia Tech, No. 3, faced 10th-placed West Virginia in the Sugar Bowl and Rice, No. 6, hosted Alabama in the Cotton Bowl.

At Jacksonville, Fla., Auburn pitted its "X" and "Y" units and the passing combination of Bobby Freeman to Jimmy Byburn against free-scoring Texas Tech, led by second team All-America Halfback Bobby Cavazos in the Gator Bowl.

The burning questions of quarterback Bernie Faloney's condition and Maryland's right to the national title went on the line before an estimated 69,839 fans in a televised and broadcast game.

Faloney, the split-T magician whose knee was injured in Maryland's last regular-season game with Alabama and which gave way again several days ago in practice, will see some action, according to the team trainer. But his substitute, Charlie Boxold, was to start for Jim Tatum's powerful Terps and how much service Faloney would see was unknown at kickoff time.

Michigan State's Spartans ruled a touchdown favorite over UCLA in the latest edition of the Bit-Ten-Pacific Coast Conference battle, which the Midwesterners have won six out of seven times.

UCLA, owner of one of the best defense records in the country, faced a Pasadena line that has found it on the losing end of two previous appearances 1-0 to Georgia, 1943, and 49-14 to Illinois, 1941.

Gallardo, Perez Battle Tonight

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (UP)—The fight tonight is Davey Gallardo — Lulu Perez from the Madison Square Garden studio, a rematch of a rematch between two busy little featherweights.

Radio-TV viewers can catch the show at 10 p. m., EST, on NBC-TV or ABC-radio.

The International Boxing Club hopes enough fans will be attracted by the novelty of the first Jan. 1 fight in Garden history to make a passable gate.

Perez won the first match of this three-bout series because Gallardo suffered a deep cut that required two stitches. Gallardo came back to win No. 2, knocking down Perez twice in the fourth round. Perez was 4-1 in the first bout and 175 in the second.

The betting people are sticking with Perez as an 8-5 favorite in No. 3 although the past performance charts show Lulu is a risky favorite.

1947). Passing appeared to be vital for favored Georgia Tech and underdog Alabama too.

The T-formation Engineers, going against the heavier, split-T-powered West Virginians, were expected to try to run to the outside or overhead to avoid the beefy Mountaineer middle.

Injury-riddled "Dama," a bowl veteran, counted heavily on the passing of Quarterback Bart Starr to try to handle Rice's "ground forces," passed by All America Bul-back Koss Johnson and speedster Dickey Moegle operating behind a powerful line.

In other games Mississippi Southern met Texas Western in the Sun Bowl, La Crosse (Wis.) State met Missouri Valley in the Cigar Bowl. Arkansas State met East Texas State in the Tangerine Bowl and Great Lakes Navy met

UCLA, 1943, and 49-14 to Illinois, 1941.

Aggies Hoping to Improve Rating

By BEN OLAN

NEW ORK — The Oklahoma Aggies looked toward the remainder of the college basketball season today with high hopes of improving their already lofty rating among the nation's leaders.

The Aggies, ranked No. 5 in the Associated Press poll, captured the All-College Tournament title last night by whipping Santa Clara 7-56. Oklahoma A & M has last only once this season — by one point to Minnesota.

Not only was the shooting all tournaments closed out as the new year came in.

At St. Paul, Gustavus Adolphus' height overcame St. Thomas' tenacity for a 60-60 victory and the championship of the first annual St. Paul Invitational Tournament.

Northwestern Louisiana squeezed by Findlay 71-68 in the finals of the Midwest Collegiate competition, at Terre Haute, Ind.

Still to be completed is the All-American City Tournament at Owensboro, Ky., where last night St. Francis of Brooklyn whipped South Carolina 58-55 and Kentucky Wesleyan turned back Denver 64-55 in first-round games. The winners' meet tonight in one of the two semifinals. Maryland takes on Evansville (Ind.) College in the other.

In other games, Notre Dame pulled ahead in the final three minutes to hand Northwestern a 52-50 defeat, the first home loss for the Wildcats this season. Michigan brought its record to 5-2 with 76-68 triumph over Marquette, and UCLA defeated Michigan State 67-57.

In the consolation games of the All-College Tournament, Oklahoma City outgated a taller Wyoming team 63-54 for third place; Tulsa edged Mississippi 64-60 for fifth and Cincinnati walloped Furman 93-77, despite Frank Selvy's 50 points for the losers.

TIME RUNNING OUT!

New Year's Eve and four minutes 'til midnight. It is time to total your failures, to calculate your successes, and to make bonafide resolutions. Did this year bring a spiritual surplus for you? Do you have a clearer view of destiny? Do you know more of the meaning and purpose of life? Have you had time for God? If not, it will be a terrible day, when God has no time for you. As the New Year dawns, we know God is in front. He will be in all the tomorrows. Happy New Year!
